Professional Interests

Social Epidemiology, Quantitative Methodology, Demography and Sociology of Aging

Current Position

9/01- Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Princeton University
Faculty Associate, Office of Population Research
Faculty Associate, Center for Health and Wellbeing
Faculty Affiliate, Center for Migration and Development

Education

8/95-5/01 Ph.D. Sociology, 2001
Duke University, Department of Sociology
Dissertation: "Life Course and Cohort Variation in the Relationship Between Education and Health and Mortality."

1/98-5/99 M.S. Statistics, 1999
Duke University, Institute of Statistics and Decision Sciences
Thesis: "Bayesian Estimation of Polychoric and Polyserial Correlations via Markov Chain Monte Carlo Simulation Algorithms: A Simulation
Study Comparing Posterior Mean and Maximum Likelihood Estimators."

8/93-12/95 M.A. Sociology, 1995, University of Arkansas, Department of Sociology

8/89-8/93 B.A. Sociology, 1993, University of Arkansas, Department of Sociology

Awards and Honors

- 11/01 Gerontological Society of America (Behavioral & Social Sciences Section) Dissertation Award for paper “Mortality Selection and the Life Course Pattern of the Education-Health Relationship.” ($1,000)
- 4/99 Vorsanger-Smith Scholar Award. Awarded by faculty in recognition of professional development and achievement. ($1,000)
- 4/99 Glaxo-Wellcome Long Term Care Research Award to investigate time-varying effects of SES on health and mortality. ($3,000)
- 8/98 Accepted into ICPSR workshop on the Study of Aging: Use of Multiple Surveys. Competitive admission. Sponsored by NACDA and NIA. ($800 and fees covered)
- 4/97 Glaxo-Wellcome Long Term Care Research Award to investigate effects of stress trajectories on mental and physical health. ($3,000)
- 8/95-8/01 NIA Public Health Service Pre-doctoral fellowship in medical demography and the demography of aging.

Grants

- 7/05-6/07 Principal Investigator. “Explanations of Racial Disparities in Active Life.” National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, R03 HD050374-01, $100,000 Direct Costs.
- 5/03-8/03 Co-Investigator (with Rachel T. Kimbro). “The Hispanic Paradox in Breastfeeding Behavior: The Role of Acculturation.” Center for Migration and Development Summer Research Award, Princeton University, $4,100.

Teaching Assistantships

Spg 2001 Department of Sociology, Duke University. Assistant for Emilio Parrado, Ph.D. in graduate Event History Models course.

- Fall 2000 Department of Sociology, Duke University. Assistant for Thomas A. Diprete, Ph.D. in graduate Nonlinear Models course.
- Spg 1997 Department of Sociology, Duke University. Assistant for Kenneth C. Land, Ph.D. in graduate Linear Models course.
- Fall 1994 Department of Sociology, University of Arkansas. Assistant for Marcella Thompson, M.A. in Introduction to Sociology.

Research Experience

- 6/01-7/01 Department of Sociology, Duke University
Project: Investigated couple-level retirement sequences using discrete time multinomial logit models of PSID data. Angela M. O’Rand, P.I.
- 5/01-6/01 Department of Sociology, University of Akron
Project: Prepared MIDUS data for analyses of the determinants of midlife education. Cheryl Elman, P.I.
- 8/98-5/99 Department of Sociology, Duke University
Project: Investigated gender inequality in wages and pension benefits across time using matched CPS data. Angela M. O’Rand, P.I.
- 6/98-1/99 Center for Demographic Studies, Duke University
Project: Constructed ASCII version of the 1999 National Long-Term Care Survey from CAPI specifications and linked survey to previous waves. Kenneth G. Manton and Larry Corder, P.I.
- 8/97-5/98 Center for the Study of Aging and Human Development and Department of Psychiatry, Duke University Project: Investigated chronic pain among elders with nonterminal conditions. Conducted extensive literature review of relevant medical literature for annotated bibliography (funded by AARP), Deborah T. Gold, P.I.
- 1/96-8/97 Center for the Study of Aging and Human Development, Duke University
Duke Site Coordinator and Project Editor for the 3rd wave of the MacArthur Project on Successful Aging. Conducted first stage editing of completed interview questionnaires and merged subset of EPESE data with Duke MacArthur data.
- 6/96-9/96 Center for Demographic Studies, Duke University
Project: Helped prepare 1994 National Long-Term Care Survey for public use. Crosswalked 1982, 1984, 1989, and 1994 public use data to create a consolidated codebook of the four waves. Kenneth G. Manton and Larry Corder, P.I.

8/93-5/94 Department of Sociology, University of Arkansas
Project: "Community Impact of Regional Transportation Infrastructure Growth." Drew stratified systematic random sample from voter registration frame, assisted in designing and administering questionnaire, coded and analyzed data. Kim Fendley, P.I.
